Musicians of The Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia present Classical Jukebox, a concert of musician favorites to support the newly launched Holesovsky Musician's Fund.

Conductor Laureate, Ignat Solzhenitsyn returns to perform on piano in support of the Chamber Orchestra.

COP Musicians to feature works by Brahms, Vivaldi, Gerber, Dvořák, and Bach.

A founding resident company of The Kimmel Center for the Performing Arts, The Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia (COP) announces Classical Jukebox, a special benefit concert for the Holesovsky Musician's Fund. This chamber music concert will feature musicians of COP, and special guest artists including pianist and WRTI host Debra Lew Harder, and conductor laureate Ignat Solzenitzyn on piano in an evening of musician favorites.

"I miss Jimmy," said Associate Concertmaster Meichen Liao-Barnes. Musicians, like Liao-Barnes, are volunteering their talents in honor of Jimmy Holesovsky in support of the Musician's Fund. She continued, "Playing this concert allows me to relive the many wonderful memories of Jimmy."

The Holesovsky Musician's Fund was established in honor of long time principal cellist and orchestra personnel manager, James "Jimmy" Holesovsky. A member of the Chamber Orchestra for over 50 years, Holesovsky studied at the Curtis Institute with Orlando Cole, and joined the Chamber Orchestra at the age of 22, a year before his graduation. He also played for Santa Fe Opera for 32 years, and performed with the Philly Pops and the Pennsylvania Ballet.

"We are excited to debut this new initiative and special fundraising concert in tribute to our long-time cellist and personnel manager, Jimmy Holesovsky" said Bill Rhoads. "In honor of Jimmy's unwavering devotion to the Chamber Orchestra and to his colleagues, all net proceeds from this event will go toward the Holesovsky Musician's Fund. Donations received into the fund are dedicated to the payment of our musicians for future COP concerts and events. We're deeply grateful for, and I feel fortunate to be surrounded by, such an incredibly talented and dedicated group of musicians. They have been, and will continue to be, the reason for our success. The generous gift of their time and talent has made this special event possible and reflects Jimmy's spirit of commitment and collaboration which pervades every facet of our organization."

Conductor Laureate Ignat Solzenitzyn will make a special guest appearance in support of the Chamber Orchestra. Solzenitzyn, joined COP in 1994 as assistant conductor while a student at the Curtis Institute of Music and assumed the role of Music Director in 2004 to 2010. The notable impact he had on the organization is documented through countless acclaimed recordings released on the Naxos label.

This concert will include Brahms' Clarinet Trio (Op. 114) and Piano Quartet No 1 in G minor, Op. 25, Steven R. Gerber's Elegy on the Name "Dmitri Shostakovich". The program will also feature selections from Spirituals, Book II for Flute and Cello, Dvořák's Terzetto, Op. 74, Schubert's Quintet in C. D 956, Op. 163, Jacques Ibert's Trois Pièces Brèves, Schumann's Trio Op. 134, and Vivaldi's Concerto for 2 Trumpets in C Major, RV 537.

The Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia

A founding resident company of the Kimmel Center for the Performing Arts, The Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia is a 33-member professional ensemble led by Music Director Dirk Brossé. The Chamber Orchestra, founded in 1964 by Marc Mostovoy, has a well-established reputation for distinguished performances of repertoire from the Baroque period through the twenty-first century.

The Chamber Orchestra's development was motivated, in part, by the desire to provide performance opportunities to young professional musicians emerging from area conservatories and other regional training programs, but also by a desire to make a substantial contribution to the city and the region's cultural life. In addition to presenting its own productions, the Chamber Orchestra started to develop an entrepreneurial business model by seeking other performance opportunities among the region's presenter/producer community, thereby providing supplementary employment for its members. The ensemble also championed new music, with a focus on local composers. In total, the organization has commissioned and premiered over seventy new works.

In 1994, Ignat Solzhenitsyn, a concert pianist and conducting graduate from the Curtis Institute of Music, joined the Chamber Orchestra as Assistant Conductor. In 1998, he was named Principal Conductor and, ultimately, Music Director in 2004. A conductor and composer of international acclaim, Maestro Dirk Brossé now enters his eighth season as Music Director of The Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia. In the 2017-2018 season, the Orchestra will perform six programs from October through May in the Kimmel Center's intimate, 600-seat Perelman Theater.

Over the course of the ensemble's rich and diverse history, COP has performed with such internationally acclaimed guest artists as Plácido Domingo, Luciano Pavarotti, Vladimir Ashkenazy, Mstislav Rostropovich, Isaac Stern, Rudolph Serkin, The Eroica Trio, Jean-Pierre Rampal, Romero Guitar Quartet, Julie Andrews, Bernadette Peters, Ben Folds, Branford Marsalis, Elvis Costello, Sylvia McNair, Steven Isserlis, Joseph Silverstein, Ransom Wilson, Gerard Schwarz, Jahja Ling, and Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg, among others. The ensemble travels regularly, having toured the United States, Europe, and Israel.
